Hong Kong International Kung Fu Festival

2009 World Guoshu Competition

The first World Guoshu Competition (WGC) will be held at the Hong Kong International Trade & Exhibition Centre from 21st to 26th July, 2009. It will be a key event at the inaugural Hong Kong International Kung Fu Festival, and is fully supported by the Hong Kong Wushu Union, Hong Kong Tourism Association, Hong Kong Arts Centre, Songshan Shaolin Temple, the German Sports University Cologne, and Hong Kong Traditional Wushu Federation.

To ensure the highest standards of professionalism, the organizing committee has invited Shi Yongxin, abbot of Shaolin Temple, and renowned martial arts scholar, Professor Ma Mingda, to be chief advisors to the Competition, along with a team of leading experts in Chinese sports and martial arts, including Jiang Haoquan, Ma Xianda, Wang Deying, Shen Shaosan, Liang Mintao, Yang Zhenduo, Qiu Pixiang, Xia Bohua, Men Huifeng, Lin Zhenhui, and Zheng Baolin.

Our goal is to construct a competition system that will develop the full potential of traditional Chinese sports as an instrument of mental and physical health, and, through promotion of Chinese sports, to cultivate deeper understanding of Chinese culture and its values. In addition, we hope the Competition will assist in developing diversity in world sports and contribute to greater social harmony in today's transnational society.

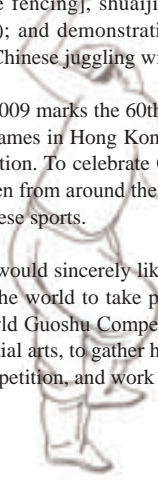

'Guoshu' (national arts), the indigenous sports system in China, has evolved through a long course of historical development spanning thousands of years, and is a vital part of China's national culture ('Guoxue'). Together with 'guoyi' (Chinese medicine), 'guohua' (Chinese painting) and 'guoyue' (Chinese music), guoshu is an important channel for disseminating traditional Chinese culture. After nearly a century of development, the name 'guoshu' is now a well-recognized label for China's indigenous sports. At a time when global attention increasingly focuses on China, we should seize the opportunity to construct an international platform for Chinese sports, and to revitalize China's outstanding but much neglected sporting traditions.

Deeply embedded in guoshu are Chinese cultural notions of fitness and sporting values, which emphasize balance between practice and competition. Equal emphasis is placed on health and competition, sports and culture, and the physical and mental aspects of sports. Therefore, in organizing the World Guoshu Competition, special attention is paid to the cultural values and characteristics of Chinese sports, hence the division of the competition into three separate but related areas: wushu taolu (including bare-handed and weapon performances, two-man sets and group performances); agonistic matches (such as sanshou, duanbing [Chinese fencing], shuaijiao [Chinese wrestling], Taiji push-hands, Wing Chun Sticking hands, boji and xinquan); and demonstration events (including archery, shuttlecock, changbing [Chinese long weapons], feicha [Chinese juggling with steel trident] and dangong [Chinese pellet bow]).

As 2009 marks the 60th anniversary of the People's Republic of China, as well as the occasion of the East Asian Games in Hong Kong SAR, we consider this an opportune year to launch the inaugural World Guoshu Competition. To celebrate China's upcoming 60th anniversary, martial arts authorities, social celebrities, and sportsmen from around the world will gather in Hong Kong to participate in the first international competition for Chinese sports.

We would sincerely like to extend our invitation to enthusiasts of Chinese sports and martial arts from all around the world to take part in the event. We look forward to welcoming you and wish you success at the first World Guoshu Competition. Let this be an invitation to every enthusiast and exponent of Chinese sports and martial arts, to gather here in Hong Kong, to share this unique experience, make friends through exchange and competition, and work together toward the revival of Chinese sports culture.

Organizing Committee for the First World Guoshu Competition
November 18, 2008

COMPETITION EVENTS

1. Wushu taolu events: individual, two-person, or group performance of bare-handed and weapon sets in any style or school;
2. Competitive events: sanshou, duanbing (Chinese fencing), shuaijiao (Chinese wrestling), Taiji push-hands, Wing Chun Sticking hands, boji, and xinquan;
3. Demonstration events: archery, shuttlecock, changbing (Chinese long-range weapons), feicha (traditional Chinese juggling using steel trident), and dangong (Chinese pellet bow), etc.

PARTICIPATION DETAILS

1. Athletes of all nationalities are permitted to take part in the competition.
2. Each team may register one team leader and one or two coaches. For teams with over 15 athletes, application fees for the team leader (one) and coach (one), who do not take part in the competition as athletes, will be waived. Delegations of over 15 people can also recommend a team judge (national first level or above), who will serve as an official judge (not concurrently as a team leader, coach or athlete) in the competition, upon approval by the organizing committee, and part of the relevant expenses will be paid by the organizing committee.
3. There is no limit to the number of events for which each athlete may apply. For group events, there will be no competition if the number of participants is less than 5 in a group, while selected music can be played to accompany the routine-set.
4. In wushu taolu events, athletes will be divided into groups according to age and gender. For two-person or group events, groups will be divided according to the average age of the team.
5. Financial conditions:
 - a) Application fee: RMB ¥300 per person. (Team leaders, coaches, athletes and team followers are all required to pay the application fee. Those with multiple roles need to pay only once.)
 - b) Event fee:
 - (i) RMB ¥300 per event for individual and dual wushu taolu events; RMB ¥150 per competitor for wushu taolu group events.
 - (ii) RMB ¥600 per competitor per event for competitive events.
 - (iii) An athlete may enter both wushu taolu events and competitive events (sanshou, duanbing, etc.), and the fee will be totalled according to the number of events for which an athlete applies.
 - c) Two optional categories of accommodation with a favorable “package service charge” will be available for those who need accommodation (for details see Appendix I). Those who use either of these category options will have their application fee waived and may apply for either 4 wushu taolu events (2 individual, 1 two-person and 1 group event) or 1 competitive event and 2 wushu taolu events without further charge. These benefits apply only to the applicant himself/herself.
 - d) The team judge must pay a participation fee of RMB ¥1,800, and can enjoy the preferential benefits of both Accommodation A and referee subsidies.
 - e) All participants are responsible for their own expenses.
 - f) Complimentary souvenirs will be given to all participants.

COMPETITION DETAILS

1. Wushu taolu competition will be conducted in accordance with the Rules for International Wushu Taolu Competition endorsed by the International Wushu Federation (IWUF) in conjunction with the supplementary regulations of this competition.
2. Sanshou competition will be conducted in accordance with the Rules for International Wushu Sanshou Competition endorsed by the IWUF.
3. Duanbing, Wing Chun Sticking hands, Shuijiao, Taiji push-hands, boji, and xinquan competitions will be conducted in accordance with the rules and supplementary regulations published by the WGC Organizing Committee. For details see the official website: <http://www.guoshuintl.com>.
4. The arbitration commission and the referee commission will be appointed by the Organizing Committee.
5. In competitive events athletes will be divided into junior male/female divisions (under age 18) and adult male/female divisions (age 18 and above). The knockout or round-robin system will be adopted for the competition.
6. Time limits:
 - a) Individual wushu taolu events: Less than 2 minutes.
 - b) Taijiquan: Less than 6 minutes. (The judge will blow a whistle when the athlete has performed for 5 minutes.)
 - c) Taiji apparatus, Mulanquan, Mulan apparatus: Less than 4 minutes. (The judge will blow a whistle when the athlete has performed for 3 minutes.)
 - d) Dual (two-person) wushu taolu events: Less than 1 minute.
 - e) Group wushu taolu events: Less than 5 minutes.

Note: For individual and two-person wushu taolu events, 0.1 point shall be deducted for any overtime performance up to 2 seconds beyond the set time limit; 0.2 points shall be deducted for overtime performance between 2 and 4 seconds, and so forth. For Taiji, Mulan and group events, 0.1 point shall be deducted for any overtime performance up to 5 seconds beyond the set time limit; 0.2 point for overtime performance between 5 and 10 seconds, and so forth.
 - f) Sanshou competition: Each bout consists of 3 three-minute rounds with a one-minute rest in between. A bout is won by the best two of three rounds. For Wing Chun Sticking hands, each bout consists of three two-minute rounds with a one-minute rest in between. A bout is won by the best two of three rounds. A similar time limit will be adopted in other competitive events.
7. Each group in group events should comprise no less than 5 athletes. 0.5 points shall be deducted per athlete if the group size falls below the required 5 persons (with a minimum of at least 3 athletes).
8. In group events, groups will be divided according to the average age of the participants regardless of gender.
9. Protective gear (headgear, chest protectors, boxing gloves and wrestling suits in competitive events) will be provided by the Organizing Committee while costumes, cup-protectors, and other personal equipment must be brought by the competitors themselves. Weapons for duanbing competition will be provided by the Organizing Committee, but shin-guards and cup-protectors, which are in compliance with the regulations, must be brought by the competitors themselves.
10. Competition program and schedule:
 - a) The competition program and schedule will be published on the official website 10 days before the competition. Please note the online information then. The website is <http://www.guoshuintl.com>.
 - b) For the schedule of the wushu taolu competition, please read the program distributed by the organizing committee on registration.

PRESTIGE

POWER PRESTIGE

c) The schedule of competitive events will be compiled after the weighing-in and lot-drawing between 18:00-19:00 on July 21, 2009. A competitor who outweighs his entered category will be disqualified from the whole competition, but the entry fees will not be refunded.

11. Other provisions:

- a) Each competitor should bring along a Health Certificate issued by a qualified hospital and a Waiver of Liability jointly signed by the competitor himself/herself and the team leader, both of which documents must be submitted at least 3 months before the application deadline. Those who fail to meet the above requirements will be disqualified from the competition.
- b) Teams shall be responsible for verifying a competitor's age and health status, and confirming the registration form with signature and stamp. The organizers reserve the right to disqualify athletes who have submitted a false age and annul their competition results, without prejudice to the right to retain their entry fees. All participating teams or athletes shall themselves be responsible for any risk of illness or injury that may result from their participation in the competition, and any expense thus incurred. It is strongly advised that athletes should apply for Life Accident Insurance before the competition.

Notes: 1. Please give a "√" in the "□" according to your situation. All team followers should list after the participating athletes, and their specific status should be made clear in the "Remarks" column.

2. Each blank in the "Code numbers of events applied" is for only one code. If the same athlete applies more than 6 events, please fill in a new line under the same name. In the "Year of Birth" column, fill in a four-figure year. For example, if born in August 1988, just fill in "1988".

3. For taolu two-person events, please make clear the partner's No. in the list in the "Remarks" column. This entry form shall be valid for copy.

4. If the taolu event you planned to apply is not in the coding list, please write down its name in the "Names and grades of events applied" column and we will make it become one of the competition events.

5. WAIVER OF LIABILITIES: Our team, with a total of _____ competitors, voluntarily takes part in the 1st World Guoshu Competition 2009. All competitors have had physical examinations in hospitals above county level and their health conditions meet fully the health requirements of the competition. We have purchased the required insurance ourselves, and all participants under 18 have Obtained their guardians' signatures of consent. We affirm that we ourselves or our team will take full responsibility for all risks or accidents of physical and mental injuries, disabilities and losses which may result from our participations in the 1st World Guoshu Competition, and all responsibilities have nothing to do with the organizing committee, the organizers or the organizing units. All our team members agree to abide by and follow the regulations and rules established by the hosting organization. We affirm that all information given in this form is true and promise that, if there is any misrepresentation of facts, we are willing to accept any penalty from the Organizing Committee. We agree that the Organizing Committee has the privilege to use any participant's pictures or images without limitation.
